

ENERGY STAR® WINDOW REPLACEMENT REBATE FOR LOUISIANA AND TEXAS RESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS

Replacing old windows with ENERGY STAR certified windows lowers household energy bills by an average of up to 13 percent nationwide when replacing single-pane windows. Lower energy consumption also reduces greenhouse gas emissions from power plants and homes.

Thanks to advances in technology, today's ENERGY STAR certified windows, doors, and skylights offer greater savings than ever before. Just look for the correct ENERGY STAR label for where you live.

Every ENERGY STAR window, door and skylight is independently certified and verified to perform at levels that meet or exceed energy efficiency guidelines set by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. But how do you know which windows work in your climate or how to install them to maximize your energy savings? The following tips will help you buy with confidence and install for efficiency.

Purchasing Tips

Shopping for new windows, doors, and skylights can be a confusing process. ENERGY STAR makes it simple! Follow these five steps to ensure your windows, doors, and skylights deliver savings and comfort you'll enjoy.

1. Determine your ENERGY STAR Climate Zone.
2. Ask a local dealer/retailer or your contractor which brand(s) they offer.
3. Use the ENERGY STAR Product Finder to identify product lines certified for your climate zone by brand/manufacture and by product type.
4. Ask for ENERGY STAR when ordering. When you're ordering in a showroom, make sure to ask for a product that is certified to meet the ENERGY STAR criteria for your climate zone. You can choose ENERGY STAR certified windows in a variety of framing materials to suit your needs. If purchasing a window, door, or skylight off the shelf, look for the ENERGY STAR label for your climate zone next to the NFRC label on the glass.
5. Get a deal. In addition to the long-term energy savings you'll enjoy, you may be able to take advantage of financial incentives that lower your initial investment:
 - Many utilities provide financial incentives for purchasing ENERGY STAR certified windows, doors, and skylights. Look for local rebates and other promotions in your area.
 - Claim federal tax credits for installing ENERGY STAR certified windows, doors or skylights or making certain other energy efficiency improvements to your home.
 - Keep in mind that the cost of complete window replacement can vary. Be sure to get quotes from several installers. Different dealers may quote different prices for the same product. When interviewing contractors, ask them to break down the price quote by labor and materials. ENERGY STAR certified windows, doors and skylights may cost more than non-certified products, but the labor involved should be comparable for both.
 - Save ENERGY STAR and NFRC label as documentation. *
